MEMORANDUM

RE: HARRY V. ROBOTIS
KRONOS IMPORTING CO., INC.
INTERNATIONAL GOURMET IMPORTS, LTD.
TREASURE ISLAND
FRANK & CHARLES KATZBERG

On August 8, 1982 Harry V. Robotis departed for Greece representing that he was going to do shopping for olives, peppers, feta cheese, olive oil and other items on behalf of Kronos Importing Co., Inc. and International Gourmet Imports, Ltd.

Prior to that, on or about February 15, 1982, Robotis contacted Kutner with a purpose of refinancing Kronos of which he was the President, but Kronos was a subsidiary of Treasure Island, Inc. of which [redacted] [redacted] but his ownership was not legally disclosed because he had killed a boy with his automobile and was exposed to a large judgment.

b6
b7C

Kutner invited Walter Heller and Company, through its [redacted] to conduct an audit-inquiry to determine whether Kronos was a worthy credit risk since Robotis and Kronos were seeking refinancing between $650,000 and $1,000,000.00. [redacted] conducted a 'spot-audit' and discovered that Kronos was very badly managed and had aged accounts receivable beyond six months and that the assets of inventory and accounts receivable did not justify any credit whatsoever, no matter what the amount.

b6

Subsequently, Barclay Bank was solicited and [redacted] was assigned to the account. When she completed her 'spot audit' and discovered the total lack of responsible bookkeeping and auditing rejected any further consideration of any loan to Kronos.

With this development, Robotis thought it would be wise to organize another corporation which would have a clean and fresh image but which would be an adjunct arm of Kronos Importing Co., Inc. Subsequently International Gourmet Imports, Ltd. was organized wholly owned by Robotis and a different address was arranged through the rental of space and telephone messages c/o Dorothy's AAA Telephone Service - Room 1708, 105 W. Madison St., Chicago, Ill.

It was necessary to have a fresh audit of Kronos so as to present to any finance company a proper and complete audit; Kutner recommended the CPA firm of Thomas Havey and Co. and [redacted] was assigned to the account. It was quickly ascertained that the previous auditors of Kronos, Albert Smith and Co. had been manipulating the books of Kronos at the direction of [redacted] of Treasure Island, which was alleged by Robotis. Robotis further stated that [redacted], with the knowledge and cooperation of [redacted] used Kronos as a bookkeeping dumping grounds for Treasure Island for the purpose of avoiding Federal and State taxes. In the interim Associates Commercial Corporation, through [redacted], was selected for the purpose of refinancing Kronos. Robotis then disclosed that he had an

b7C

an arrangement with [ ] to buy out Treasure Island and/ or [ ] if sufficient financing was obtained through Associates. In the interim, Robotis determined that because of Kronos' bad credit rating of having overdrafts at the Bank of Ravenswood approximating $400,000, <sup>it was</sup> good business judgment to build and to do business through International Gourmet Imports, Ltd. Robotis stated that he could not approach [ ] for any further capital as he had been neglectful in the management of Kronos and allowing the aged accounts receivable to build up.

b6
b7C

Robotis solicited Kutner and in May of 1982 Kutner loaned Robotis $15,000. There was some difficulty in collecting but it was finally paid. Robotis used the money to do business through International Gourmet Ltd. and stated if he could show a good track record this would please [ ], who had been his "patron, brother and father." He then disclosed that [ ] had given him money for the purchase of his home in Skokie, Illinois. Kutner did not receive any money or fees or any payment from Robotis for the loan of $15,000.

b6
b7C

In this period, Robotis repeated often the importance of going to Greece and other countries to do buying on behalf of Kronos through the adjunct or defacto subsidiary of International Gourmet Imports, Ltd.

Robotis' campaign of the importance of going to Greece and other countries was almost a daily drumbeat.

In June, Robotis stated that he had various shipments coming in through International Gourmet and needed $25,000 for financing the shipments. OF The Com. Int. Ins. Dan Pines Kutner used collateral to to make the loan through the Continental Illinois Bank. Robotis stated that he was certain that [redacted] would agree to Kutner sharing one-half of the profits of the July shipment. Kutner received $6,500 which Robotis stated were one-half of the profits. Robotis declined to give an accounting stating that he must be trusted as evidenced by [redacted] [redacted] were in debt to the Bank of Ravenswood for some $400,000.

b6
b7C

b6
b7C

In the interim, the audit of [redacted] and the consultation with [redacted] continued a pace. Robotis' personal financial statement which was submitted to the Michigan National Bank for the opening of a new bank account disclosed that he had a total sum of $500 as a viable cash asset. The Michigan Avenue National Bank rejected the account.

Accounts were opened at Standard Chartered Bank with the $15,000 loaned to Robotis in June. Also, an account was opened at the American National Bank through the good offices of [ ] an important customer of Robotis' who cooperated with Robotis in financing the shipments of peppers and other items.

b7C

The payment of $6,500 Robotis said he had made arrangements for several shipments of peppers and other items and particularly through the source of [ ] of Greece, who was in Chicago with Robotis for some two months.

b6

to K. T. or in (Lundquist) was (Robotis) the profits for the generated loan was $5,000.

After reassuring Kutner that what he was doing would be in behalf of Kronos via International Gourmet and would help the financing through Associates Commercial Corporation Kutner <sup>on Aug 2, 1982</sup> made a new loan at the Continental Bank using <sup>The Commission</sup> collateral for the amount of $30,000.

Robotis stated he would make <sup>on Aug 8</sup> a business trip to Greece and accomplish his total purchases <sup>and return</sup> in Greece and other countries within two weeks <sup>but not later than Aug. 24.</sup> That he cleared his trip with [ ]

On August 2, 1982 Kutner gave Robotis a check for $30,000 for the trip and also to finance shipment <sup>in</sup> process and for deposits for the shipments in Greece. After Robotis received the check for $30,000 he stated on August 3, 1982, that he was taking his family with him for <sup>4</sup> personal reasons, but that would not alter his promise to return in two weeks on Aug. 24. 1982.

When Robotis received the check he solicited the rental of space in Kutner's office for $500 per month and <sup>for</sup> any secretarial services that were used he should be billed. With this agreement Robotis installed a new telephone (312) 782-2238 and 782-2239. Between August 3, 1982 and August 8, 1982 Robotis was assuring Kutner that he would share in one-half of all the profits of the purchases made through International Gourmet for the benefit of Kronos and Treasure Island.

b7C

To loop back: Sometime in June a letter of intent was entered into between [ ] and Harry V. Robotis for the sale of Kronos to Robotis based on the offer of [ ] financing <sup>by</sup> Associates Commercial <sup>CORPORATION</sup> which was further based on Robotis' promise that he could reduce the accounts receivable by a substantial margin and to increase the inventory of Kronos.

The agreement with Kutner was that he would receive, for his loan, <sup>of $2000.</sup> <sup>in past dated checks the sum</sup> an advance of $6,000 per month based on the anticipated profits of the shipments then in process and then to be made.

b7C

Robotis' [redacted] left for Athens, Greece on or about August 3, 1982. Robotis [redacted] left for Athens on August 8, 1982. On the night of August 7, 1982 Robotis telephoned Kutner and stated that he had a firm return ticket on August 24, 1982.

Out of the five (5) checks given to Kutner for August, the check dated August 2, 1982 cleared. All the others were returned NSF. When Kutner requested the checks for September, Robotis stated that when he would return on August 24, 1982 he would issue <sup>new</sup> checks.

Kutner went to California <sup>on Aug 26</sup> ~~and~~ During the interim was notified <sup>Via long distance</sup> that two (2) of Robotis' checks which he had endorsed to the Banker's Building for rent were returned NSF. A third check put <sup>through</sup> Kutner [redacted] was also returned NSF; and thus <sup>the same</sup> for the fourth check.

b7C

Kutner returned to Chicago on August 31, 1982.

On September 1, 1982 Kutner called Robotis in Athens and berated him for the NSF checks that were returned by the American National Bank. Robotis stated that the bank was wrong and that Kutner should trust Robotis as Kutner was very important to him and particularly in his survival as a business person. Robotis stated that he would telephone the night of ~~August~~ Sept 2, 1982 - a promise he did not keep.

b7C

Every day thereafter Kutner tried to locate Robotis in Athens and also enlisted the aid of Robotis' [redacted]

[redacted] On September 12, 1982 Kutner telephoned Athens and talked to [redacted] and when she announced the call Kutner heard the voice of Harry Robotis. [redacted] stated that Harry was in Holland and that she was leaving for Chicago on September 12, 1982 and would arrive either on that day or September 13, 1982. That Harry would return on Sept. 14. from Holland (Amsterdam). and Harry said that he was doing big "business" for Kutner

On September 16, 1982 at about 8 pm. Robotis telephoned Kutner in Chicago that he had arrived. On September 17, 1982 Robotis came to the office and reported, with glowing enthusiasm, the tremendous business he had lined up.

Kutner stated that while he was away Kutner had been in almost daily communication with American National Bank because of overdrafts approximating $8,000; ~~when~~ <sup>International Gourmet</sup> they threatened criminal action as well as closing the bank account.

Robotis!
In ~~Harry's~~ presence, Kutner telephoned the American National Bank ~~and~~ Robotis and Kutner talked with <sup>the</sup> American National Bank employee, [ ] <sup>senior officer</sup> and also with [ ]

b6
b7C

[ ], who insisted upon immediate payment <sup>of the overdrafts.</sup> or else. A date was made for September 20, 1982 for Robotis To appear for payment

On September 17, 1982, after the phone call, Robotis announced that he had now arranged for his own survival, " ~~and~~ " that he was prepared to leave Kronos and start his own <sup>" via International Gourmet</sup> business with or without the financing through Associated.

b6
b7C

When Kutner stated to Robotis this was betrayal to [ ] Robotis again repeated " his survival was more important than worrying about his loyalty and obligation to [ ] or to Kronos. Yh in Kronos had an interest in Int. Gourmet. That the Greek business would be great.

b6
b7C

When Kutner requested payment of the monies due him and for Robotis to comply with the repayment of the $30,000 loan <sup>investment</sup> Robotis said he would have no trouble repaying it and would have the money through [ ] and through a huge debtor-

b6
b7C

customer in Houston, Texas of Kronos and International Gourmet.

September
On August 20, 1982 Robotis and [ ] went to the American National Bank. The bank was correct in their bookkeeping and Robotis was wrong.
Robotis claimed that the Bank paid a promissory note as a draft.

on Sept 23
A luncheon conference with [ ] and [ ], Robotis and Kutner took place was held at the Empire Room. When [ ] asked Robotis if he reduced the accounts receivable, Robotis stated that he decided it was not wise to do so that (because) if [ ] would see that he could collect money on the old accounts that they would be disinclined to enter into the sale of Kronos. When Robotis stated that he would make <sup>u</sup> new sales <sup>u</sup> to all of his big delinquent accounts/<sup>receivable</sup> that he would then show a "current" statement on AR's.

b6
b7C

Kutner's
On September 21, 1982 Robotis came to the (Int. Gourmet)
office and stated that he wished to pay Kutner
for the NSF checks on account $2,000 but that he had a check that had to be cashed. It was a check payable to Kronos from the Chicago Pickle Co. in the amount of some $7,000. It was drawn on the Merchandise National Bank. At Robotis' request <sup>ed</sup> Kutner escort/Robotis to the Merchandise National 10

Bank. The bank declined to certify that check or to issue a cashier's check. On September 24, 1982 Robotis stated to Kutner that the "bookkeeping" had been done overnight; - that he would now show current accounts. Kutner stated that this was fraudulent and that he (Robotis) was exposed to serious charges and worst of all, <sup>it</sup> was a deliberate betrayal and defrauding of Kronos and Treasure Island <sup>and Associates</sup> Robotis

b6

shrugged and stated that [ ] was an easy mark who would never question what he had done. <sup>That</sup> [ ] was not too bright <sup>and would never complain</sup> <sup>that</sup> [ ] was eager to refinance and to make the deal no matter what.

On September 24, 1982 at around 4 pm

Kutner stated to Robotis that he would dis-continue any <sup>business</sup> counselling, dealings or <sup>business</sup> representation for or with Robotis and/or International Gourmet and/or Kronos. That he wished to be paid in full on or before September 30, 1982 and to sever all relationships.

b6
b7C

X V (?) X V X

On September 21, 1982, after much anger and accusations by Kutner to Robotis, Robotis' [ ] delivered a cashier's check from the Bank of Ravenswood drawn on the Kronos account. She also delivered a personal check from Robotis payable to Continental Bank for the <sup>loan</sup> interest for the month of September for the <sup>Continental</sup> bank loan.

On the 24th of September, 1982 Robotis stated he was going to Houston, Texas to collect the monies and return to Chicago on September 25, 1982. As of September 25, 1982 Kutner telephoned the office and Harry V. Robotis had not returned.

Kutner disclosed to [ ] and [ ]

b6
b7C

(his) the severance with Robotis and the fraud of Robotis in doctoring the Kronos books.

At 1:20 pm Saturday, September 25, 1982, Kutner telephoned Robotis' home. He talked with

[ ] She said that her mother and father were in Houston, Texas. They were supposed to return on this day. (Sept 25, 1)

Note

Robotis said he purchased, in Greece and in Holland, more than 30 containers of peppers, olives, olive oil and cheese. He stated that this will make him independent of Treasure Island & Kronos for his survival and enable him to walk away from Kronos and [ ] and make International Gourmet Imports, Ltd. a big international corporation. <sup>Kutner</sup> asked him if he had planned this all along and he said, "Yes." He told <sup>Kutner</sup> that he planned International Gourmet Imports without telling <sup>Kutner</sup> his full plan because he felt that <sup>Kutner</sup> would not tolerate his actions. <sup>Robotis</sup> further stated this was his way to be free

b6
b7C

b6
b7C

from pressure from [redacted] which was detroying him and his family.

b6
b7C

X Y Kutner stated that if [redacted] hear this, which they will, at some point International Gourmet would have to furnish an accounting to Kronos and [redacted]. Kutner stated that Robotis could be accused of a scheme to defraud and probably also embezzlement and that International Gourmet could be legally accountable to Kronos and [redacted] as a constructive trust.

b6
b7C

Kutner further stated that from the manipulation of Kronos for the benefit of Treasure Island and [redacted] that it is a strong possibility that the IRS could sustain a conspiracy to defraud and the State of Illinois could also seek recovery for willfull underpayment from [redacted].

b6
b7C

X Y Robotis stated that [redacted] never had corporate minutes or corporate meetings.
That he attended none. That all he did was sign or endorse stock certificates which gave the [redacted] total control. He stated that the failure to have corporate minutes or corporate meetings was part of [redacted] scheme to manipulate the business transactions and tax relationship between Treasure Island and Kronos.
Robotis stated he was made President simply at the command of [redacted].
